USING FIGHTERBASE

How to use this food list

This food list is part of your eating styles library in the FighterBase app. The pages that follow are built to be skimmed. You do not need to read it all at once.

1. Open Nutrition
   In the app, open the Nutrition tab and tap Eating styles.

2. Tap Keto
   Read the short summary, what to eat, what to go easy on, and what to watch.

3. Follow it
   Tap Follow this style. Recipes and the Foods list then filter to match, so you only see what fits. You can follow more than one style.

4. Download the PDFs
   Use Full food list and Diet guide to save these to your phone. Handy for the shop or a restaurant.

5. Log it and train
   Meals you log count towards your day. Spend your energy on training, not on reading labels.

The colour key

AT A GLANCE

Keto on one page

Carbs kept very low (often under 50 g a day) so the body runs mainly on fat and ketones. Meals are built from fat and protein with low-carb veg.

Mostly yes

- Beef steak (sirloin, rump, ribeye, fillet)
- Beef mince (5% to 20% fat)
- Salmon (fresh, farmed or wild)
- Smoked salmon
- Hen eggs (whole)
- Egg whites (carton)
- Spinach
- Kale
- Swede and turnip
- Celeriac
- Strawberries
- Blueberries
- Almonds
- Walnuts
- Extra virgin olive oil
- Olive oil (light)

Mostly no

- White bread
- Wholemeal and granary bread
- Wheat pasta (white or wholewheat)
- Egg pasta and fresh pasta
- Condensed and evaporated milk
- Ice cream
- Custard and milk puddings
- Red lentils
- Green and brown lentils

- Hot chocolate
- Squash and cordial

The big ideas

1. Carbohydrate stays very low, usually 20 to 50 g net carbs a day.
2. Protein is moderate. Fat makes up most of the energy.
3. Net carbs = total carbs minus fibre. Count them.
4. It takes days to a couple of weeks to adapt.
5. Hidden carbs in sauces, drinks and 'diet' foods can end ketosis.

Talk to a professional first if: You take medication for diabetes (risk of low blood sugar or ketoacidosis), blood pressure or epilepsy; You have kidney, liver, pancreas or gall bladder problems, or have no gall bladder; You are pregnant, breastfeeding or under 18; You have ever had an eating disorder; You plan to cut weight for a fight (keto is not a safe shortcut).

READ THE LABEL

Hidden ingredients

Ingredients can hide in the small print. Look for these on packaging, menus and supplements.

- Starch and sugar hide as: maltodextrin, dextrose, glucose syrup, modified starch, wheat flour, honey, fruit juice
- Sugar alcohols (maltitol, sorbitol) partly count towards carbs
- Check sauces, marinades, soups and processed meats for added sugar

For fighters and combat athletes

- No eating style makes a rapid weight cut safe. Sweating, fluid restriction and crash diets hurt performance and can be dangerous. Plan any weight cut with a registered sports dietitian and your coach, well before the weigh-in.
- Fuel the training first. Hard sparring and conditioning need carbohydrate and enough total food. If a style cuts a food group, have a plan to replace what is lost.
- Protein across the day. A common general range for people training hard is about 1.4 to 2.0 g per kg of body weight a day (draft range, to be confirmed by a dietitian).
- Try changes in training, never in fight week. Test new foods, supplements and timing well before competition.
- Under 18, pregnant, or with a medical condition: get advice from a doctor or dietitian before changing your diet.
